of Albuquerque, left this morning for the Duke City.

A. L. Dowd, of the firm of Dowd & Fowler, of Denver, was a passenger this morning on the Denver & Rio Grande for his home in the Colorado capital. Mr. Dowd has been in Santa Fe attending to legal business.

Ernest Myers, wholesale liquor dealer, of Albuquerque, left this morning on the Santa Fe for his home in the Duke City. Mr. Myers was on his return from a trip east and had been here several days, owing to the prevailing washouts.

"Mrs. W. B. Bunker has telegraphed to her husband from a Texas Pacific station that she was due to arrive in El Paso yesterday afternoon. Mr. Bunker will go to Albuquerque to meet her. Mrs. Bunker left New York for home nearly two weeks ago."—Las Vegas Daily Optic.

Mr. and Mrs. A. R. McCord and baby succeeded finally in leaving on their often-postponed visit to the Louisiana Purchase Exposition this morning. They left via the Santa Fe Central and Rock Island and will visit Omaha and Iowa points as well as St. Louis, before returning to this city.

W. D. Lee, superintendent of the Fourth Division of the Denver & Rio Grande, left this morning for his headquarters at Alamosa. Mr. Lee has been busily engaged during the last few days in running over his division and repairing damages done by the unusual freshets.

A party composed of Governor Otero, Senator W. H. Andrews, Chairman H. O. Bursum, of the Republican Central Committee, J. D. Sena and A. S. Adams will leave over the Denver & Rio Grande in the morning for Taos, where they go to be present at the Republican ratification meeting to be held in that town.

Rev. A. R. Harkness, of this city, left this morning via the Santa Fe Central and Rock Island routes for Quincy, Illinois, where he will attend the National Congress of the Society for the Friendless. Mr. Harkness will attend as a delegate from New Mexico at the session which will be held on the 14th instant.

A. J. Fischer, the pharmacist, left this morning on the Santa Fe for Albuquerque to attend the postponed meeting of the Territorial Board of Pharmacy in that city. Mr. Fischer is secretary of the Board, which has been unable to meet, owing to annulled trains, thus preventing a quorum. Four candidates for licenses are to be considered at the meeting.

C. E. Parmenter, who is connected with the Jett Mercantile Company, of Kingman, Kansas, left this morning on the Denver & Rio Grande for Ojo Caliente, where he will remain until the first of the coming month. On his return Mr. Parmenter will form one of a party headed by Page B. Otero, Territorial Game Warden, on a hunting trip among the Truchas peaks.

H. H. Darton, a member of the United States Geological Survey, accompanied by his wife, were among the numerous passengers to Albuquerque this morning. Mr. Darton had been in this city against his wishes for the last few days, having business of importance to transact in the southern portion of the Territory but could not reach his destination because of lack of transportation facilities.

Mr. and Mrs. Jay Hubbs, accompanied by their daughter, Miss Jean, left this morning on the first Santa Fe train for their home in Albuquerque. Mrs. Hubbs and her daughter are on their return from an extended trip east and account many weird tales of suffering between Pueblo and Santa Fe because of the impaired tracks. Mrs. Hubbs made the trip from Antonio to Embudo four times before finally getting through to Santa Fe.

This morning, at 9 o'clock, at the parsonage, Rev. J. L. Shively, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church, united in marriage Miss Maggie Kenton and William Single, both of Pueblo, Colorado. The young couple came to Santa Fe several days ago for the purpose of being married in the capital city and thus surprising their friends. The bride is a popular young society woman of Pueblo and the groom holds a responsible position with the Bessemer Steel works in that city. The newly married couple will leave for Pueblo tomorrow morning, where they will make their home.

Mrs. S. R. Hinkley and daughters are expected home tonight from the east. They have had a hard time getting to Santa Fe as the first of last week they were among the passengers of a train that was wrecked near Oklahoma City on the Rock Island and were confined in the hospital in that city for several days. They are returning by way of El Paso and Torrance.

C. E. Jones and F. G. Scott, sheep buyers of Mankato, Kansas, transacted some business in this city yesterday and left for Albuquerque on the morning train.

LATEST POLITICAL POINTERS

The New Mexican has thus far published the accounts of nine Republican and eleven Democratic county conventions. Sixteen Republican and fourteen Democratic county conventions are still to be heard from.

Number 1 of Volume 1 of the Taos County Republican, a weekly, has made its appearance. It is printed neatly in both English and Spanish. Frank Staplin is the publisher and editor; and Donaciano Montoya, the Spanish editor. Of course the paper is straight-cut Republican and a strong supporter of Senator W. H. Andrews for delegate to Congress.

The Republicans of Colfax County last Saturday evening nominated the following ticket: Council, Jeremiah Leahy; house, M. B. Stockton; sheriff, Marion Littrell; probate clerk, Joseph P. Brackett; treasurer and collector, George Pace; superintendent of schools, John Davis. The New Mexican will publish a complete ticket and a detailed account of the convention at a later date.

"At this present writing it looks as if the Democratic papers of the Territory were letting Money and the mare go at it all by themselves and are turning their attention toward launching a Rodey boom. The boom, however, is liable to prove only a boomerang to them."—White Oaks Outlook. It is commonly reported on the streets of this city that the principal object of Chairman J. H. Crist of the Democratic Territorial Central Committee in going to Albuquerque was to see Delegate B. S. Rodey with the intention of proposing a Democratic-Independent-Republican compromise, namely, to pull off George P. Money as the Democratic candidate for delegate and to place Mr. Rodey at the head of the Democratic-Independent ticket. The New Mexican takes no stock in this report, but gives it, as it has attracted a good deal of attention and as it is being rolled under the tongues of a number of the politicians here as a sweet morsel.

Says the Alamogordo News, giving a hint of the Democratic dissensions in Otero County: "H. M. Denny has fled contest in the race for sheriff. James Hunter is the opponent. We understand that the contest will apply only to the Chihauhuau box. J. E. Wharton is the attorney for Mr. Denny. We understand that Judge Byron Sherry will represent James Hunter's interest and the case promises to be more than interesting. We are informed that Mr. Denny has made the remark that he is willing to run as an independent candidate, if this be true why the contest? It is also a little peculiar that the contest will hold the Chihauhuau box as the bone of contention when all the other boxes in the county were just as rotten. But, a whole regiment of Otero Democrats are mad as wet hounds because the companies of Alamogordo voted at the Chihauhuau box, hence the fight over the box. In the meantime the Democrats of the county are 'kinder scrambled'."

According to the Alamogordo News, the Money meeting at Alamogordo last Thursday was not much more of a success than the meeting at Santa Fe. The News says: "Hon. George P. Money, the young man who cherishes a delusion that he may represent New Mexico in the next Congress, held forth at the court room Thursday night to a fair-sized audience, a great many of whom were Republicans. Honorable Byron Sherry, in a few well chosen words, introduced the speaker of the evening, who put in an hour or so in an endeavor to persuade the people that he ought to go to Congress. The speech was, to say the least, peculiar. He took up half an hour abusing the United States senate, which, he said, was the most powerful and autocratic body on earth. If Mr. Money is elected the senate will, in all probability, be abolished, although by so doing the young man would be obliged to unseat his father, the senator from Mississippi."

"He then attempted to show that the
